Winning special honorable mention from the judges, the float entered by the Laura Loma parlor, Native Daughters, of Niles, in the Admission day parade in San Francisco, was highly acclaimed by all those witnessing the spectacle.

Representing an outdoor garden scene, the float was attractively decorated in pastel shades and was adorned with asters, zinnias, and marigolds. Miss Adelaide Martin, attractively attired in a red and white sport costume, and Miss Martha Crane, becoming in a yellow sport attire, rode on the float.

The truck for the float was supplied through the courtesy of the Pine Nursery; the lawn through the courtesy of the Jackson Furniture company, of Oakland; shrubs and moss through the courtesy of the California Nursery, Niles; and the flowers through the courtesy of Ralph Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Petsche, Mrs. A. S. Andrade, E. A. Ellsworth, H. L. Scott, and Mrs. William Cearey.

Miss Adelaide Martin, chairman of the committee in charge of the float, wishes to thank all those helping to make it a success.

CAR CRASHES INTO TELEPHONE POLE DRIVER CONDUCTS PROBE OF NILES CONDITIONS

Two Niles youths escaped serious injury early Sunday morning when a car driven by Lesley Stivers crashed into a telephone pole in front of Hiser's Shoe Repairing shop, on Main street, Niles.

The driver, who was accompanied by Red Kellar, was attempting to pass a truck with a long trailer when the accident occurred. He received severe lacerations of the nose, while Kellar was uninjured. Stivers was treated by Dr. E. C. Grau at Niles. The car was badly damaged.

DANCING CLASSES
The first dancing classes of the Williamson School will be held Friday afternoon in the Odd Fellows' hall at Niles, beginning at four o'clock. The classes are expected to prove popular this year.

Sheriff M. B. Driver was in Niles Monday afternoon on a tour of investigation concerning the acts of rowdyism performed on Niles streets by several hoodlums recently.

Although Sheriff Driver did not suggest what could be done to curb such acts in the future, or to punish the perpetrators of the past deeds, he promised that his office will make efforts to make Niles a law abiding town.

He intimated that an attache from the sheriff's office may be sent to Niles to assist the local constable in maintaining order when the hoodlums are usually at their worst.

Mr. and Mrs. Marino Iacopi spent the week-end visiting their parents in Niles.

RETURN TO PROSPEROUS TIMES PREDICTED BEFORE NILES CIVIC GATHERING

Opening of Manufacturing Plants Seen as Bright Indication

Pointing out the marked improvement in economic conditions in southern Alameda county during the last two months, Jack Williamson, Oakland Tribune correspondent, saw a bright future for this section of the county in addressing the Niles Chamber of Commerce at their first meeting of the fall season Monday.

Calling for an effort at unity and cooperation among southern Alameda county civic organizations to bolster the growing return to more prosperous times, Williamson cited several examples which in his opinion indicated better times. The recent opening of the brick plants at Livermore, and Niles, the Schuckl cannery at Niles and the Booth cannery at Centerville, and prospects of plants in Pleasanton opening in the near future, providing considerable work, were offered by the speaker as evidence of better times returning.

The proposed establishment of an art colony on the J. C. Shinn ranch, at Niles, also was mentioned by Williamson as a factor which should prove a considerable asset to Niles and surrounding community. Stressing the advantage of providing an outlet for those in grammar school and high school in this vicinity who are gifted in art and craft work, as well as giving local artists an opportunity to experiment and practice their art, the Tribune man was enthusiastic over the prospects offered by the suggested art colony.

In closing his address, Williamson, who is a talented artist himself, said:

Rex Coleman, 20, colored transient, was bound over to the superior court on charges of burglary, by Judge Allen G. Norris, in the Niles justice court Tuesday afternoon.

Thomas De Marco, who was apprehended with Coleman, was dismissed on grounds of insufficient evidence. Coleman was arrested with his companion at Decoto, Monday afternoon, August 29, by Constable O. W. Ebright after the pair had fled from Niles on a passenger train shortly after the home of Mrs. Earl Trethan on Second street, Niles, had been entered and a purse ransacked of $11.40. After his capture, Coleman confessed taking the money.

TOWNSHIP SCOUTS TO ATTEND YOUTH TRAINING COURSE

Large Enrollment Is Expected for Camp Dimond Pow-wow

A course for training boy leadership will be held for Boy Scouts of the Oakland Area Council, October 1-2 at their Camp Dimond in the Oakland foothills, Irving P. Beesley, director of the course and field executive for southern Alameda county, announced recently.

Older scouts from every troop in Washington township are expected to attend this Pow-wow which is held semi-annually to train older Boy Scouts in the duties and responsibilities of the Senior Patrol leader, Beesley said.

Commenting on the need for such a Pow-wow, O. W. Ebright, chairman of the activities committee for this district declared,

"Training of junior leaders is essential for the development of a smooth running, interesting, peppy Boy Scout troop. To help Scoutmasters develop this corps of younger leaders, our council is conducting this fall training course. Scouts who satisfactorily complete the session will be awarded training certificates. We expect at least one scout from each of our local troops to participate in this Pow-wow."

THE POLITICAL BAROMETER

"As Maine goes, so goes the nation!"

And Maine has gone democratic, the first time in eighteen years. It has elected a Jeffersonian governor and two out of the three members to be elected to the house of representatives. This is not at all surprising, though there may be many who still believe that Herbert Hoover is a serious contender for the presidency. Living so long under Republican abuses, it is not strange that people may think that there will be no end to this political destiny. But the handwriting is on the wall, and he that runs may read it.

It is a strange thing, but has held good all through history. A prosperous regime may rot the average man of the individual liberty that he formerly possessed, be snobbish and cruel at times, but if the people have enough to eat, and a carnival is staged twice a year for their amusement—with plenty of license thrown in—the government is safe. Rome had that plan worked out well. For centuries it was a huge success. Finally the money failed to flow uninterruptedly into the ancient world's capital and the people murmured, and that was the beginning of the end.

A direct simile obtains today in the United States. People would be amazed at the restrictions to individual liberty and action that have sprung up in this country since the World War, if they only stopped to think about them. But they haven't stopped to think. In fact the average man hadn't thought about anything much for a long time. Then he got hard up, lost his job and couldn't get another one. His head commenced to work, and it suddenly dawned upon him that all was not well. He sees it all very clearly now. Down with the administration, the source of all his woe!

And so be it. It is in the cards. Hoover is doomed. He will probably carry but three states, if he carries even those.

Men are hungry. Men are mad. And the oligarchy of big business will tumble.

AND ALL IS SERENE

Sheriff M. B. Driver dropped into Niles Tuesday to survey the landscape. He left with empty handcuffs dangling on his arm—the arm of the law in Alameda county. He found no hoodlums in Niles, and, evidently, was well pleased with the state of quietude that prevailed over the town. He sauntered into the Register office, mustache and all, to swap felicitations. We gathered from his conversation that the lawless acts in Niles, of a few weeks ago, had become a closed chapter, for the very "hefty" reason that a twenty-year old bootblack, whose modest possessions were destroyed, would not swear to a complaint. First there was no evidence; now no complaining witness.

Come on, roughnecks, tear down the flag pole and pull up the pavement—everything is "jake."

A CLOUD ON THE HORIZON

Unless a way is found to remove Bob Shuler from the senatorial race, the political waters are sure to become muddy before the close of the campaign on October 31. That Shuler will draw votes from McAdoo, rather than from Tubbs, appears at this time to be the opinion of generally well-informed political writers.

There is an element, however, that may enter into the contest, not at this time apparent to students who scan only the surface to forecast the future. Shuler has a one-man political machine in Southern California. He attacks men and policies indiscriminately. There is no doubt but what he has stayed, to some extent, the hand of greed and vice. But the individual who prefers not to have his politics scrambled, views with apprehension the ascendancy of the militant preacher of Los Angeles. That men and women of this complexion, and they represent a majority of the people, may turn to McAdoo in order to save the state from Shuler, is an assumption very logical. They will turn to McAdoo, rather than Tubbs, we believe, because McAdoo represents a protest against economic conditions; and economic conditions are far more pressing than the right to drink all the booze you want, and to drink it with the approval and sanction of the government of the United States.

Naturally, those who have liquor on the brain, and nothing else, will vote for Tubbs, and work for him. But most of us, even though we may drink not at all, or only occasionally or often, realize that a return to normal business conditions is far more important than the return of the grog shop to America. Therefore, after all, the Shuler cloud on the horizon may form a smoke screen under which the hosts of good government may storm the trenches on November 1 and elect the most outstanding figure in California since the early days of Hiram Johnson.

PRY THEM LOOSE

We have a suspicion—maybe unfounded in the political code of California—that there is a law prohibiting school and other public officials from holding down two public jobs, and drawing two separate salaries out of the county's funds. If this is a fact, the proper authorities should see that the two high school teachers, offending very seriously against present times of economic stress, be pried loose from their forty-five dollar sinecures. If, in truth, the law has not been violated, technically or otherwise, there is a higher law—the law of good taste—that should impel Mr. Kirby and Mr. Webb, to instantly step down out of their automobile seats and turn over the wheel to some worthy and competent man who has a family to support and no employment.

Come, gentlemen; the men and women of Washington township are watching you with lowered eyebrows. They are both pained and amazed at your conduct. And remember, also, it is never too late to correct a bad impression.

BEAUTIFUL RITES FEATURE WEDDING OF NILES COUPLE

Edna Wellington Is Popular Bride at Niles Ceremonies

A beautiful ceremony marked the wedding of Gladred Viery, Niles MacMarr store manager, to Miss Edna Wellington, popular Niles girl, at the Corpus Christi church, Niles, Sunday afternoon.

Father McCaul officiated at the wedding rites, which were witnessed by a large group of relatives of both the bride and groom. The bride was charmingly attired in a velvet gown and wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Clifford Viery, sister-in-law of the groom, was the bridesmaid, while Clifford Viery acted as best man. The groom was becomingly dressed in a dark suit.

After the wedding ceremonies, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. J. Peterson, in Hayward, which was followed by a dinner at the Villa Grill, also in Hayward.

The happy couple are living at the Petersen apartments in Niles where they plan to make their future home. Viery has been manager of the Niles MacMarr store for the past four months, while his bride is employed in the Niles post office.

Their many friends extend their congratulations and wishes for a happy married life.

FORMER BELOVED NILES RESIDENT CALLED BY DEATH

Miss Chaille Benson Dies In San Jose After Long Life

(Contributed by a Friend)

In San Jose, on Thursday, September 8, at the home of her devoted niece, Mrs. Eric Bremstrom, Miss Chaille Benson slipped quietly from this life to the life beyond. With her was her sister, Mrs. Kelly, who had shared with her through many years the joys and sorrows of loving companionship.

Miss Benson was born at Palmyra, Missouri, August 21, 1841.

When she was but a baby the family moved to St. Louis where she lived her early school years, later attending a finishing school for young ladies, in Paradise, Pennsylvania, conducted by her father's cousin, Mrs. Henerietta Dennis. Her young womanhood was spent in travel when she met many interesting and famous persons, among them Mark Twain.

He was a constant visitor at her summer home near St. Louis, and a warm friendship grew up between them. In 1893 she edited a column in the Salt Lake Journal, which was owned and conducted by her brother-in-law, Colonel William Hyde. During the year of 1911 she lived in San Jose, then for four years in Niles, from whence she returned to San Jose.

All her life she was a devoted and ardent churchwoman and for many years sang in Old Saint George's Episcopal church in St. Louis. Her strong, true, rich voice, even in these later years, was a marvel to those who saw only the tiny, delicate structure from which it came.

Miss Benson was a daughter of the Old South, a product of fine traditions and nurtured in gracious living. These conditions combined with the sparkle and joy of life inherited from French Huguenot ancestors, created a personality, arresting and individual. She belonged to the period that named "lady" as its highest title of womanhood, and well did she fulfill the requirements of loyalty to friends, family and country, of courage and gentleness, and of high regard for the courtesies of both the bride and groom.

The bride was charmingly attired in a velvet gown and wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Clifford Viery, sister-in-law of the groom, was the bridesmaid, while Clifford Viery acted as best man. The groom was becomingly dressed in a dark suit.

After the wedding ceremonies, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. J. Peterson, in Hayward, which was followed by a dinner at the Villa Grill, also in Hayward.

The happy couple are living at the Petersen apartments in Niles where they plan to make their future home. Viery has been manager of the Niles MacMarr store for the past four months, while his bride is employed in the Niles post office.

Their many friends extend their congratulations and wishes for a happy married life.

Throughout a long life, Miss Benson's gallant spirit ruled with mighty disregard, a fragile and often tormented body, and the complete mastery of her spirit over the slight tenement in which she dwelt was the wonder of those who knew and loved her.

Her spirit burned with a warm and happy flame without help or hindrance from frail flesh.

It was a rare privilege to know her and those who were so favored will often recall her little person with gratitude and a smile; gratitude for her example of spirit as reality and a smile for her gay and gentle ways. Immortality seems very real and very close when we think of the spirit that on this earth was called Chaille Benson.

sell, presented F. V. Jones, president of the chamber, with a sketch he had made of Jones four years ago. It was attractively framed and revealed no little artistic talent.

Speaking as manager of the Dickey brick plant at Niles, Lester Duffy also sounded a note of returning prosperity at Monday's meeting. He stated that the brick plant had received orders which would keep them in operation for at least two months and told of other orders which the Niles establishment is very likely to receive, which will keep it operating at full capacity for a much longer period. The present building activity sponsored by the federal government for post offices and army and navy bases in the state were mentioned by Duffy as indications of a more rosy future for manufacturing concerns.

The operation of the evening high school at the Washington Union high school on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights of every week was explained to the civic body by H. L. Scott, member of the high school board of trustees. Scott stated that the cost of operating the evening high school last year amounted to $3300, while the appropriation received from the county and state for this purpose amounted to $5500, thus affecting a profit of $2200 to the school. The trustee predicted even a greater profit when the enrollment of the school grows as it is expected to do in the future.

Scott also explained that the high school was affecting a saving of fifty per cent over last year's expense in the practice of the high school laundering its own towels this year. A woman has been employed to act as both janitress and do the laundry work, which results in a big saving, he declared.

Dr. John Wright, who recently took over the practice of the late Dr. John Adams in Niles, was introduced as a new member of the Niles Chamber at Monday's gathering.

At the suggestion of Robert Blacow, the chamber moved to dispense with voicing an opinion on the question of the repeal of the Wright act. The majority of the members felt that it was a personal matter and did not deem it necessary to express an opinion as a body.

E. F. Glassbrook was appointed chairman to arrange for next week's meeting. The proposed tax amendment to the state constitution is slated to come up for considerable discussion at that time.

CONTROLLED GAS HEAT

THIS WINTER thousands will learn that Natural Gas gives clean, easily controlled heat.

CONTROLLED HEAT

With gas fuel you can have maximum heat instantly available and keep it regulated to any temperature desired. Controlled heat from gas heating equipment is possible by merely turning a valve or handle, by pressing a button to get high, low or medium heat, or by setting an electric thermostat to automatically maintain any desired temperature.

Thirty days from today, possibly sooner, you may wake to see rain slashing down window-panes. Will this mean that through the long winter days to follow, your house will half the time be too hot and half the time too cold? Will this mean you are going to be drafted back to that old, old duty of coaxing balky and old-fashioned heating equipment? Or will you enjoy Comfort Zone warmth from Natural Gas?

Nature has never made, nor man ever utilized, a finer fuel than Natural Gas. Heaters and furnaces for its use are at once dependable, low in cost and entirely carefree. See these modern gas heating devices at the nearest office of the P. G. and E., or see your local heating dealer. Select the type best fitted to your home needs. Then enjoy clean, economical, carefree heat from a fire that needs no tending.

Natural Gas will maintain this "Comfort Zone" at low cost

GRIDDERS PREPARE FOR SEASON'S OPENING

Despite the fact his squad was seriously hit by the loss of several prospects because of the night bus service, Coach Jess Regli is rapidly moulding a first string eleven out of the remaining boys out for football at Washington Union high school.

The aggregation which will face Gilroy high school in the first game of the season at Gilroy, Sept. 23 will not be lacking in beef and brawn with such men as Sinclair, who scales in the neighborhood of 200 pounds, and Frank Mederios, 185, assured of berths on the team. The eleven this year will average over 165 pounds and coupled with an abundance of fight and speed should prove formidable opponents when the first league game opens against Hayward, October 12.

Those who have been occupying first string berths in practice this week are Booras, center; Fuller and Wilson, guards; Sinclair and H. Harrold, tackles; A. Rivers and J. Rodrigues, ends; Grimmer, quarter; Gronley, Soit and Ed. Rose, halves; and F. Mederios, full. Coach Regli expects to find plenty of other potential material in the following: Boice, Geib, Silva, Coley, Kato, A. Muniz, W. Ramos and Vargas.

Fifty and Fit

A MAN is as old—or as young—as his organs. At fifty, you can be in your prime. Why go along with "fairly good health" when you might be enjoying vigor you haven't felt for years? There's a simple little thing anyone can do to keep the vital organs stimulated, and feel fit all the time. People don't realize how sluggish they've grown until they've tried it. The stimulant that will stir your system to new life is Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. It will make a most amazing difference in many ways. This famous doctor's prescription is a delicious syrup made with fresh herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. It starts its good work with the first spoonful. That's all you need to drive away the dullness and headache of a bilious spell, and rid the system of that slow poison that saps your strength. It's better than a tonic for tired bowels, and unlike habit-forming laxatives you can take it freely or give it to any child. And it isn't expensive.

Get some syrup pepsin today, and take a little tonight. Don't wait until you're sick to give your system this wonderful help. You can avoid those spells of biliousness or constipation. A spoonful every now and then is better than constant worry about the condition of your bowels, or fear of auto-intoxication as you grow older. Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin protects the system. All druggists keep this preparation.
